Garfield junior high school

Berkeley, California

principal's message

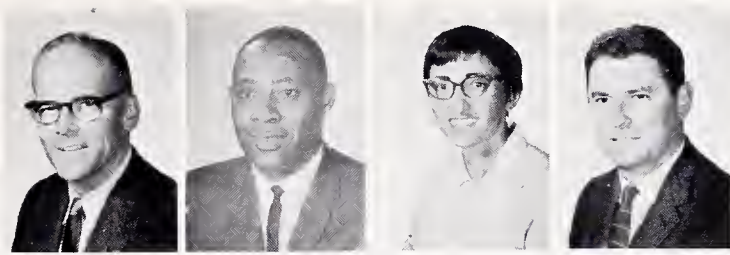

There's a famous poem by Robert Frost which states, "Something there is that doesn't love a wall." The poem describes two neighbors who build a wall between them, only to have the wall mysteriously destroyed each year. The idea of the poem is that we should not build "walls of misunderstanding" between people. We must learn to live together harmoniously.

It seems to me that many of you have learned a great deal this year--not only in mathematics, English, music, and other disciplines, but in the every day experience of being together. I hope we are all willing to accept the other person and to work with him to build--not another "wall," but a better world.
